

MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE EQUALISED.

Something Entirely New.

The Atlantic Mutual Fire Insurance Company,

CHARTERED by the Legislature of New Hampshire, June Session, 1847, are prepared to take risks against FIRE, on most any description of Property, on reasonable terms.

The risks are divided into four separate classes, viz:

- The First Class consists of Farm risks exclusively.
- The Second Class consists of Dwelling Houses and contents, and Barns in Towns and Villages exclusively.
- The Third Class consists of Stores, Merchandize, Public Houses and other property not more hazardous.
- The Fourth Class consists of Factories, Mills of various descriptions, Machinery, Mechanics' Shops, and of other property not more hazardous.

The charter provides that each class shall bear its own losses, and the classification is based upon actual information taken from the books of some of the largest Offices in New England. The four classes are equivalent to four Offices, but will be attended with the expense of but one. This is believed to be the most Equitable as well as the most Economical method of Fire Insurance now in operation.

Any person desirous of being Insured will find it for his interest to examine the principles of this Office, and the plan on which it is established. About $300,000 was insured in the several classes of this Company, the first six weeks of its existence.
