PREFACE

The purpose of a preface is said to explain how a book came about. We would like to share this story with you.

The Oconto County Genealogical Society was working on a project to add old newspaper obituaries to our cemetery records. Vernon Mortier took on this task with a vengeance. He worked for hours, for days, for weeks going through newspapers starting with 1922. For each obituary he found, he listed spouse, maiden names, date of marriage, place of burial, the name of the newspaper, page number and column. As he was going through the newspapers page by page he would also write down other interesting articles. However, when he found an article titled, “Temple Family History Will Be Of Interest” in the March 31, 1932 Oconto Falls Herald, it peaked his interest. Vern felt this history was too important and should not be forgotten. The articles continued weekly through May 12, 1932.

Vern then started contacting Temple relatives, verifying facts at the Oconto County Courthouse, checking with the cemetery transcriptions and making countless trips around town.

This is a compilation of his efforts along with contributions from many family members. Many of the photos are from Tim Stephenson (11th great grandson of Abraham Temple), Clemeth G. Temple Schuessler (8th great granddaughter of Abraham Temple) and Genevieve E. Temple Buhrandt (9th great granddaughter of Abraham Temple).

DEDICATIONS AND ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I believe it is fitting and proper to dedicate this book and records to our ancestors. It is because of their vision and struggle that we were born in a democracy of freedoms that are enjoyed in the United States of America. They raised their families with pride and dignity, to protect their country in time of war, even if it meant giving of their life, which some families did to protect that freedom. They instilled in us A good philosophy of life. They taught us good work habits, independence, and self-dependability. They came to a Christian nation and taught us to love and serve God and help others less fortunate in time of need. I am sure this made untold happiness in their lives.

I wish to thank those who cooperated in sending pictures and data, to help in an effort preserve our heritage for future generations. I am not an expert, just an amateur who has a love of history and genealogy. I hope you can understand and appreciate the hardships our ancestors endured to give their children a better world to live in.

John and Connie Jacobs did the tasks most of us are not aware of. They have put in a tremendous amount of hours in making the book possible and at a reasonable cost. We are indebted to them.

I apologize for any and all errors.

INTRODUCTION

"The Name and Family of Temple"

According to the Media Research Bureau, Washington, D.C.

The name of Temple is believed to have been taken by a forbear of the present family name from the Manor of Temple in the Hundred of Spokenhee in Wellesborough, Leicestershire, England. This manor had been given by the Earl of Leicester to the Knights Temples in Ancient times.

It is said that the family of Temple is descended from Leefric or Lurie, Earl of Chester in 716 A.D. Leefric or Luric had Algar, who had Alfar II, who had Leefern or Leefwine, who had Leefric II, the Earl of Mercia, husband of the famous Countess of Godiva.

Leefric, Earl of Marcia, was chiefly instrumental in raising Edward the Confessor to the throne in the early eleventh century. He was also influential in the throning of Harold II. He was succeeded by a son Algar, who had Edurei. Edurei was deprived of his Earldom by Wm. the Conquerer. He died in 1071, leaving a son Edwin. Edwin was the first to assume the surname of Temple.

About 1421 Robert de Temple of Temple Hall, married Mary, daughter of Sir Wm. Kingsceat. He had four sons, named Nickolas, Robert, Henry and Thomas.

At a later date Sir Thomas Temple, son of John of this same branch had four sons, Peter, John, Thomas and Miles. Of these the eldest, Sir Peter Temple was the heir; Sir John was Knight of Biddlesden and Stantenbarry; the Reverend Doctor Thomas was founder of the New England Branch, and Miles of the Dever Branch. Sir Wm. Temple of the same line was a distinguished statesman in the early seventeenth century.

Some of the descendents of these lines migrated to Ireland and Scotland. They were important, both as landowners and public officials. Others married with the famous families of Grenville and Pitt, as well as with many others of equal renown in Great Britian.

One of the first to migrate to America of the Family was Abraham Temple, who settled in Salem, Mass., in 1636. He is thought to have married twice, first Abigail and then Margaret. His children were: Richard, Tobias and Robert.

Richard, son of Abraham, removed to Concord. He had issue by his wife, Joanna, whom he married in 1645 of seven children: Abigail, John, Abraham, Richard, Isaac, Christopher and Sarah.

Robert, son of Abraham of Salem, removed to Saco, Maine, where he had a son named Richard. Of the children of Richard, son of Abraham of Salem, the first son John, left no issue. Abraham, second son of Richard, lived at Concord in 1690 and had issue by his wife of Deborah Hadlock: Mary, Abigail, Abraham, Isaac, John, Sarah, Joseph and Benjamin.

Richard the third son of Richard, married Sarah Parling in 1688. He had issue by her of Richard, Joseph and Sarah.

Isaac fourth son of Richard, married Prudence Howell in 1691 and had by her: Prudence, Joanna, Rebecca, Lydia, and Susannah.

Christopher the youngest son of Richard, married Alice Hassell about 1685, and was the father by her of: Jeremiah, Alice and Christopher.

PART I

Part I represents a direct line view of individuals starting with our primary person, Abraham Temple. He was born in 1597 in England and was the first Temple to migrate to America. We have included Temples that then came to Wisconsin up to and including generation 9.

If your relatives lived in the Oconto County area and are a Temple or your ancestors married a Temple you are probably related to Abraham.

In Part II, we will list all of the people we were able to find that are descendants of Abraham.

Descendants of Abraham Temple

Generation 1

ABRAHAM TEMPLE was born in 1597 in England. He died about 1639 in Salem, Essex, Massachusetts, USA. He married (1) ABIGAIL in 1620 in England. She was born in 1601 in England. She died in 1639 in Concord, Middlesex, Massachusetts, USA.

Abraham Temple was in Salem, Mass., in 1636. He was the first of the name on American soil. His first assignment of land was evidently five acres. November 21, 1638, five acres additional were granted him "to make him a ten acre lot." From his small holdings of real estate it is perhaps to be inferred that he was a mechanic, perhaps a tailor as was Robert Temple, of whom later. June 21, 1637, in town meeting, Abraham Temple proposed the name of another man to be received as an inhabitant. This implies that he himself had already been so received. June 25, 1639, suit was brought against him for defaming the character of William Browne, and the plaintiff received forty shillings damages and six shillings costs. July 25, 1638, Abraham Temple brought suit against Humphreys, Howes and Hauks for trespass done by their horses. He may have been married twice. I suggest that his first wife was Abigail, and his second Margaret. A widow Margaret Temple married John Gifford at Lynn, Mass., about 1651. It is quite likely that Abraham died soon after 1639, as this is the last date at which he appears on the records of Salem or elsewhere. I infer that he was born 1600 or earlier.

The following is "The Provenance of Abraham 1636" from The rise of the Temples, written by Danny D. Smith. There is no direct proof of Abraham's ancestry, but what follows is the best reasoned of the varied sources.

After many years of study and research, we are prepared to say that Abraham Temple of Salem, the common ancestor of most American Temples, was probably the grandson of John Temple of Stowe who died in 1603. John had six sons and six daughters, all of whom are recorded in his will and in various manuscripts in the Huntington Library, San Mario, California.

Our first clue as to the parentage of Abraham was contained in the 1930 genealogy, The Temple Family, by Dr. Henry Curtis Temple of Alliance Ohio, who said that Abraham was the son of the youngest son of John, but that he did not know his name. We must emphasize that we used Dr. Temple merely as an initial point of investigation. We never considered him an original source or even a reliable source. But he did give us the idea as to from whence the descent might spring, and from that point we have investigated nearly every possible clue concerning the various possible connections with the Stowe Temples where a "missing link" could fit.

Turning next to Temple Prime in his several editions of Some Account of the Temple Family we learn that the youngest son of John Temple of Stowe was Peter. From the "Huntington Library Quarterly," (Vol II) we find the dates for this Peter Temple were 1586-7 to 1657. Therefore, his life span makes it highly plausible he could have begotten a son circa 1600, or a few years later.

The theory that Abraham emigrated to the New World as a means of self-betterment is likewise highly plausible. Susan Temple, the youngest daughter of John of Stowe married William Fiennes who was created First Viscount Saye and Sele by King Charles I. His importance in connection with Abraham is that he would have been the latter's uncle. And since Lord Saye and Sele helped in the establishment of several colonies in the Connecticut River Valley, such a connection might have influenced and assisted Abraham to go to America. Although after he got there he settled at Salem, rather than in one of his uncle's colonies.

In a letter to us Richard E. Temple of New Zealand, who is heir apparent to the Senior Heir-General of the Temple Clan and who is planning to write a definitive history of the English Temples, writes, "I am sorry I cannot help you any more about the youngest son of John Temple than is contained in Temple Prime although it seems quite feasible that your Abraham Temple is a descendant."

With regard to our theory that Abraham was the son of Peter, the Seventh Earl Temple of Stowe writes, "I feel quite sure that your research is right. Unfortunately, I am living in Australia, and this makes references difficult for there is little scope for genealogical research here on English families..."

Then a long series of letters have ensued between us and Anthony Temple of Cheshire, England. He is the only surviving son of Harald Markham Temple, co-author of The Temple Memoirs. He makes a few interesting remarks on Abraham. In a letter of 28 October 1971, he writes, "As you probably know yours is a well worn trail and almost every conceivable clue has been followed without result. (But)... if the connection had to be with the Temples of Stowe, this is about the only point where Abraham could reasonably be fitted."

In his second letter, he writes, "Turning to Sir Thomas's brother, Peter, I have at your suggestion re read the article by Edwin Gay and find it surprisingly informative. It would appear from the footnote you mention that Peter could have been married as early as 1603. Accepting this did happen and postulating the birth of a son in, say, 1604, who might have been Abraham-by 1613, the date when Sir Thomas had to assume full control of his brothers affairs, this boy would have been only nine years old, and one would expect to see some reference to him in the letters and account books of the time in the Stowe collection at San Marino. For instance, his uncle William could have taken him as an apprentice. One wonders whether is, in fact, anything in the Huntington relating to that period. If maybe added that by 1619 when Peter was judged a lunatic the supposed son would have expected the Court of Wards to have made some legal provision for his as well as for his father."

In answer to Mr. temple's first observation, we point out that such a son could have been cared for by Katherine, Peter's wife, who seems to have been quite a capable person. She could have gone to live with her family or she could have continued to live at Stowe. It is supposed that from the Burton Dasset annuity she had sufficient means to maintain herself and her son during the early years when her son was with her and later when it is likely, as Mr. Temple's suggests that Abraham was apprenticed to his uncle William, the tailor. (At least we know that Abraham was a tailor, or strongly suspect that he was after reaching America). What we are saying here is that there is probably no need for any special provision for the boy, either in 1613 or 1619. And if Abraham had been so apprenticed we need not be concerned that no record of it has ever been found, because there is not even any record of Williams own progeny, although we know from other sources that he did have children.

Of course, there may have been some special arrangements made for Abraham which have not been found. The difficulty is with the old English script in which many of the records and account books have been kept, which makes them extremely difficult to identify and interpret. We have made a study of such script, but unfortunately we have not been able to personally research the Huntington collection ourselves because of the great distance between Maine and California, and have had to rely upon their Quarterly to a large degree.

Here are some facts we have been able to compile from the Huntington Library Quarterly, however: Peter Temple, son of John Temple of Stowe, was not of age (21) when his father died in 1603, but he was already married. Peter died 04/07/1657, aged 70-therefore he was born in 1586-7. He was keeper of Camber Castle in Sussex in 1611 with the rank of captain. By 1613 he was on his brothers' hands with a disordered mind, being unable to attend to his duties. On 19 July 1615, in order for the family to keep control of Peter's military office, his nephew, Sir John of Staunton Barry, was put in charge of Camber Castle. But in 1617, because of Peter's mental problems, the Lieutenant of Camber Castle, Robert Boetler, made a settlement with Sir Thomas, Peters brother. Starting in 1613 a full "reckoning" was drawn up By Sir Thomas of Peter's finances. On 24 September 1616, William Temple, Peters brother, the tailor, turned in a bill for Peter's new clothes.

On 19 February 1619, the Court of Wards adjudged Peter to be a lunatic, and appointed Sir Thomas' wife's brother-in-law, Sir Robert Ryde guardian, and put Sir Thomas under 800 bond to pay Peter the 400 which remained to him under his father's will. The original legacy to Peter under the will of father amounting to 200 pounds was altered to 800. The interest on this bond and annuity of 40 pounds from the Burton Dasset revenues was paid for many years. After 1629, the principal was still unpaid, for in 1634, Katherine, wife of Peter, was willing to settle all arrearages for a 50 pound annuity during both the lives of herself and her husband, but she excepted from this agreement the 400 pounds already received in court.

All of this is the circumstantial evidence showing the distinct possibility that Abraham Temple who arrived in Salem, Massachusetts in 1636 could have been the son of Peter and Katherine(Kendall) Temple. At least, we are able to make these statements;

- (1) With Peter Temple being of such condition as not to be able to care for himself a possible son, Abraham, had to fend for himself. Most probably emigration was the easiest means for self-improvement for the Stowe Temples.

- (2) It is to be remembered that in the early 1600s England was going through adverse financial conditions or a depression, the people hardest hit by this depression were the wool raisers, and wool was the principal source of income for the Stowe Temples.

- (3) Peter's uncle, Lord Saye and Sele, could have made it easy for Abraham to go to the colonies as he had proprietary interests over there.

- (4) Although the old pedigrees do not name Abraham as a son of Peter, it is to be remembered that the pedigrees named the children of the eldest son in the succeeding generation. William Temple of London had children as borne out in the will of Sir Thomas Temple, but the names of none of them has ever been secured.

- (5) As has been remarked by Anthony Temple, if Abraham were to fit into the Stowe Pedigree anywhere it would have to be in this place. Temple Prime quite exhaustively proved the extinction of all the lines of Temple Hall Temples with the exception of the grandsons of John Temple of Stowe.

- We are also aware that nearly all Temples in the 16th century derived their lineage from Temple Hall.

- (6) All the Temples of Stowe were staunch Puritans as evidenced from Temple Memoirs; my paper, "Temples of Stowe in Tudor-Stewart England" and other sources. In New England Abraham would have been able to worship in the Puritan manner. It would seem, as shown in Some Temple Pedigrees that if Abraham were able to propose another person as an inhabitant that he had already been accepted as a member of the Church, since only members were allowed to vote in Massachusetts at the time.

- (7) It has been pointed out by such people as Lady Kinloss and Anthony Temple that the name Abraham sticks out like a sore thumb in light of the repetition of names like Robert, John, William Etc. Our reply to that is these names were common to all families, and a name like Alexander, who is a proven member of the Stowe Temples sticks out too like a sore thumb. Abraham is, after all, a Biblical name, and the "high" Puritans restored the practice of using Biblical names. As already mentioned the Temples were staunchly Puritan.

- (8) And very importantly, the dating of generations seems to work out most logically.

However all this may be, there is also a hint that Abraham could have been a son of Peter's brother. Sir Alexander Temple of Long House.

The facts that would support such a contention are as follows:

(1) Dating of generations makes it possible for Alexander to have been the father of Abraham, just as such dating did for Peter. In this course of events the relationship to John Temple as grandfather would remain unchanged. (but even at that, it is not beyond possibility that Abraham was the son of William, another brother of Peter. We do know that William had unnamed children as evidenced by the will of Sir Thomas.)

Abraham Temple and Abigail had the following children:

- i. JOHN CLIFFORD TEMPLE was born in 1621 in England. He died in 1639 in Concord, Middlesex, Massachusetts, USA.
- ii. RICHARD TEMPLE (son of Abraham Temple and Abigail) was born in 1623 in England. He died on 15 Mar 1689 in Concord, Middlesex, Massachusetts, USA. He married (1) JOANNA SHIPLEY in 1643 in Plymouth, Plymouth, Massachusetts, USA. She was born in 1625 in Charlestown, Suffolk, Massachusetts, USA. She died on 24 Feb 1688 in Concord, Middlesex, Massachusetts, USA. He married (2) HANNAH PRITCHARD in 1643 in Plymouth, Massachusetts, USA. She was born in 1624. She died in 1690.
- iii. TOBIAS TEMPLE was born in 1627 in England. He died in 1659 in Salem, Essex, Massachusetts, USA.
- iv. ROBERT TEMPLE was born in 1639 in Salem, Essex, Massachusetts, USA. Robert was killed by Indians in 1675 in Saco, York, Maine, USA.

Descendants of Richard Temple

Generation 2

RICHARD TEMPLE was born in 1623 in England. He died on 15 Mar 1689 in Concord, Middlesex, Massachusetts, USA. He married (1) JOANNA SHIPLEY in 1643 in Plymouth, Plymouth, Massachusetts, USA. She was born in 1625 in Charlestown, Suffolk, Massachusetts, USA. She died on 24 Feb 1688 in Concord, Middlesex, Massachusetts, USA. He married (2) HANNAH PRITCHARD in 1643 in Plymouth, Massachusetts, USA. She was born in 1624. She died in 1690.

Richard Temple was born in 1623 in Leicestershire, England. He moved in 1648 to Concord, Middlesex, MA. Cited in Boston transcript of 29 Jan 1923, article 9997, as having died 15 Mar 1680. He was a farmer. In 1643, he appeared among those who were listed as able to bear arms at Yarmouth.

Moved to Charleston, MA. before 1647. Removed to Concord MA. where he died. He bought and sold much real estate in Charlestown. In Concord he had a sawmill and resided on Spencer Brook in Salem he was assigned lands 30 July 1644. At Charlestown his farm reached to salt water and extended to near Bunker Hill. Was made a free man by the General Court at Boston, 15 May 1672. In 1688, Richard, having become enfeebled with health, proceeded to divide up his property among his children by deed of gift. These documents, on record in the office of the Register of Deeds, East Cambridge, MA. afford a matter of great interest to his descendants. 2 Dec 1668, he made a gift of eighty acres, including the dwelling house in which she lived to his daughter Abigail Temple Brabrook, "in consideration of her dutifulness and in particular her manner." 6 Jan 1689, he gave 60 acres to daughter Sarah Temple Estabrook, "in consideration of her dutifulness and in particular her lameness and impotency." 22 Dec 1688, entered into agreement with son Isaac, "honorably to maintain him (Richard) and his wife during their life, pay their funeral expenses and their debts." Isaac was also obligated to pay his invalid sister 20 pounds. In consideration of this undertaking, Richard deeded Isaac his new mansion or dwelling place "in Concord, consisting of one hundred acres, containing 'dwelling house, barn, outhousing, gardens, yards and fencing bounded south by highway and west by Spencer's Brook.' The gift included "the fruit of all, the apple trees of that piece of land which Richard gave to his son Abraham in the old orchard." The conveyance included also "his (Isaac's) eighth part in the saw mill near this (Richard's) house and all his moveable estate."

Richard's best love was reserved for his son Abraham. The deed of gift from Richard to Abraham, 22 Dec 1688: "Devers considerations moving me, and more particularly my son Abraham, he being my eldest son, as also making me a promise to bestow more of his estate upon his two eldest sons, Richard and Abraham than upon any of the rest of his children...in regard his (Abraham's) son, Abraham, doth bear up the name of my father and his son Richard bearing up my name.” The conveyance to Abraham includes one hundred and twenty acres lying on the north side of the North River and “twelve acres more in my old field.” The Edmunds Meadow, and two other pieces of four and five acres each were also given to Abraham.

Richard Temple and Joanna Shipley had the following children:

- i. ABIGAIL TEMPLE (daughter of Richard Temple and Joanna Shipley) was born on 15 May 1647 in Charlestown, Suffolk, Massachusetts, USA. She died on 06 Sep 1694 in Concord, Middlesex, Massachusetts, USA. She married THOMAS BRABROOK on 03 Mar 1669 in Concord, Middlesex, Massachusetts, USA.
- ii. JOHN TEMPLE (son of Richard Temple and Joanna Shipley) was born in 1649 in Charlestown, Suffolk, Massachusetts, USA. He died on 23 Jun 1725 in Boston, Suffolk, Massachusetts, USA.
- iii. ABRAHAM TEMPLE (son of Richard Temple and Joanna Shipley) was born on 04 Jun 1652 in Charlestown, Suffolk, Massachusetts, USA. He died on 04 Jan 1738 in Concord, Middlesex, Massachusetts, USA. He married DEBORAH HADLOCKE on 04 Dec 1673 in Concord, Middlesex, Massachusetts, USA. She was born in 1649. She died in 1743.
- iv. RICHARD TEMPLE (son of Richard Temple and Joanna Shipley) was born on 15 Oct 1654 in Charlestown, Suffolk, Massachusetts, USA. He died on 16 Feb 1698 in Charlestown, Suffolk, Massachusetts, USA.
- v. ISAAC TEMPLE (son of Richard Temple and Joanna Shipley) was born on 19 Jun 1657 in Charlestown, Suffolk, Massachusetts, USA. He died on 28 Sep 1691 in Concord, Middlesex, Massachusetts, USA.
- vi. CHRISTOPHER TEMPLE (son of Richard Temple and Joanna Shipley) was born in 1660. He died in 1691.
- vii. SARAH TEMPLE (daughter of Richard Temple and Joanna Shipley) was born on 08 Mar 1662 in Charlestown, Suffolk, Massachusetts, USA. She died on 29 Nov 1726 in Concord, Middlesex, Massachusetts, USA.

Richard Temple and Hannah Pritchard had the following child:

- viii. HANNAH TEMPLE (daughter of Richard Temple and Hannah Pritchard) was born on 05 Jan 1643 in Yarmouth, Barnstable, Massachusetts, USA. She died on 21 Aug 1674 in Charlestown, Suffolk, Massachusetts, USA. She married ALEXANDER STEWART on 15 Oct 1662 in Charlestown, Suffolk, Massachusetts, USA.

Descendants of Abraham Temple

Generation 3

1. ABRAHAM, TEMPLE was born on 04 Jun 1652 in Charlestown, Suffolk, Massachusetts, USA. He died on 04 Jan 1738 in Concord, Middlesex, Massachusetts, USA. He married DEBORAH HADLOCKE on 04 Dec 1673 in Concord, Middlesex, Massachusetts, USA. She was born in 1649. She died in 1743.

From The History of Concord, Massachusetts, by Alfred S Hudson:

Page 462: Abraham Temple was part of the Concord Militia, wounded at the Swamp Fight, Narragansett Expedition. He was the son of Richard Temple who had a mill on Spencer Brook in the North Quarter of Concord.

Page 287: 1655 Property list: Richard Temple's property: Concord North Quarter: 5 lots. 291 acres at Barretts Mills.

Abraham died as a man of considerably wealth. Buried in Old Burying Ground, Nashoba Hill, Concord, MA. Ralph Temple visited Anne Gjeltema and Roger E. Temple and saw this gravestone on September 11th, 1995 and it was standing and in good shape. The Temple plot is on the hillside overlooking Concord Square. He was impressed at Concord Between 25 Nov and 3 Dec 1675. He is mentioned in a warrant of impressment as an able bodied soldier, 10 Mar 1675. He served as soldier in the King Philip's War. He was one of a thousand men who mustered on Dedham Plain, 9 Dec 1675, and marched for Narragansett Fort, the stronghold of King Philip, situated on an island in a swamp in what is now South Kensington, RI. Abraham was wounded in the attack on the fort. 24 June 1675, he received 2 pounds and two shillings for earlier services in the same war. In 1735, he, among others, received a grant of land (known as a Narragansett grant) as a recognition of services rendered the Commonwealth in King Philip's War. He received a wound in the attack on a Narragansett fort, in which 4 of Captain Nathaniel Davenport's company were killed, and 11 wounded. 3 Jan 1689 Abraham, Richard and Isaac are mentioned in the town records as "freeholders but not freeman, " not being members of the Church. They were, however made freeman by the General Court in Boston, 21 March 1690. Real estate conveyances, recorded at East Cambridge, MA, indicate he was a man of considerable means. He died 28 Jan 1743. His estate was not administered on until 18 years after he died, and then amounted only to $375. The following inventory of Abraham's estate was returned 30 Dec 1756: Money due to the estate, a dark mare, a saddle and bridle, one fat ox, one yoke of oxen, six steers and four cows, two heifers and three fat swine, four small swine and three house ladders, five old axed, two plows, two broad hoes, fodder in both barns, eighty seven bushels of Indian corn and rye, fifteen bushel of oats and ten bushel of beans, a cart and wheels, an ox yoke and irons, one chain, a retie line, three lengths and tacklings, three old saws, fourteen harrow teeth, a file, square and broad, old iron, a half bushel, axe, hammer and two sickles, fine lock, plain iron beetle, rings and wedges, six barrels of cider and old casks, salted beef, fresh beef and cow hide, a drag and iron pins, a grindstone, and iron crow, a tunnel, two black sheep skins, cloth for a coat and hat; an old blue coat, a pair of leather "bricks" (breeches) and two shirts, a pair of shoes, an ox yoke for one ox, one pair of stockings and one book, a cloth colored coat and jacket, one hay fork and a shovel, about three acres of upland and meadow. Abraham was buried in the old "Hill Burying Ground" in the village of Concord. His tombstone was still standing in August 1897, and the inscription was as distinct as when first cut.

He was married to Deborah Hadlocke (daughter of John Hadlocke and Elizabeth Stow) on 4 Dec 1673 in Concord, Middlesex, MA. Deborah Hadlocke was born on 23 Mar 1648 in Concord, Middlesex MA. New England history & Genealogy has her born 1649/50. Other sources cite 4 Dec 1653. She died on 28 Jan 1743 in Concord, Middlesex, MA. Many sources place Deborah as the daughter of John Hadlock and Elizabeth Stow. This is at odds with the vital records, which have John and Elizabeth marrying in January of the same year that Deborah married Abraham Temple. Other researchers contend that John and Deborah were children of Nathaniel Hadlocke, and this seems more likely to be true. However, lacking other evidence, the relationship shown here is in agreement with the Danny D. Smith's research, based on the Levi Temple's Some Temple Pedigrees and Clarence Almon Torrey's New England Marriage Index.

Abraham Temple and Deborah Hadlocke had the following children:

- i. RICHARD₂ TEMPLE (son of Abraham Temple and Deborah Hadlocke) was born on 06 Oct 1674 in Concord, Middlesex, Massachusetts, USA. He died on 21 Nov 1756 in Concord, Middlesex, Massachusetts, USA.

- ii. ABRAHAM TEMPLE (son of Abraham Temple and Deborah Hadlocke) was born in Jan 1676 in Concord, Middlesex, Massachusetts, USA. He died on 24 Jan 1753 in Hopewell, Cumberland, New Jersey, USA.
- iii. ABIGAIL TEMPLE (daughter of Abraham Temple and Deborah Hadlocke) was born on 11 Aug 1677 in Concord, Middlesex, Massachusetts, USA. She died in 1710 in Lancaster, Worcester, Massachusetts, USA.
- iv. ISAAC TEMPLE (son of Abraham Temple and Deborah Hadlocke) was born on 25 Nov 1678 in Concord, Middlesex, Massachusetts, USA. He died on 11 Jan 1765 in Marlboro, MA, USA.
- v. JOHN TEMPLE (son of Abraham Temple and Deborah Hadlocke) was born on 04 Nov 1680 in Concord, Middlesex, Massachusetts, USA. He died on 17 Jul 1734 in Concord, Middlesex, Massachusetts, USA.
- vi. SARAH TEMPLE (daughter of Abraham Temple and Deborah Hadlocke) was born on 03 Aug 1682 in Concord, Middlesex, Massachusetts, USA. She died in 1759 in Shrewsbury, Worcester, Massachusetts, USA.

Descendants of John Temple

Generation 8

JOHN TEMPLE was born on 30 Aug 1801 in Bowdoinham, Maine. He died on 01 Aug 1844 in Brunswick, Maine. He married (1) CLARISSA WEBB on 28 Feb 1828 in Bowdoin, Sagadahoc, Maine, USA, daughter of Joshua Webb and Betsy Lane. She was born on 19 May 1809 in Brunswick, Maine. She died on 25 Jun 1880 in Oconto Falls, Oconto, Wisconsin, USA.

Some confusion exists about John's actual place of death. The Winslow Memorial indicates a place in Stiles, Wi. However, it is very unlikely that he actually moved with his family. He is not present in the census, and not buried with his wife in Oconto Falls. This may mean he died in Bowdoin, Me before the family left, or he died in route. More research is required on this.

Article from The Farmer's Herald Oconto Falls, WI Sept. 1, 1918

I am sending a short poem that I have written during my spare moments. It would please me greatly to have same published in your valuable paper. It is of little literary value, but I thought it might be of interest to my many friends of Oconto Falls. I desire to inform the people of Oconto County that I am well and getting along much better than I really expected to. I am particularly interested in the beautiful scenery of this great country. I wish once more to thank the people of Oconto Falls and the Red Cross organization for the many favors they have done for me. Wishing you all success and prosperity in all your undertakings and many thanks to all in advance, I am your true friend. Private William R. Temple

THE RED, WHITE AND BLUE

As I passed along one morning mid scenes of woe and blight
I came upon three flowers the red, the blue and white
As I gazed about thru the ruins of wars disastrous plight
The first I beheld was a daisy with a fringe of the purest white
As I stood there undecided I saw in the feathery dew
Another delicate flower with face of deepest blue
As I stooped to pluck the flower with face so fair and so sweet
I saw a bright red poppy right there beside my feet
Oh nature's fair face emblems how your smiling faces imfriend
A message of hope and contentment to the careworn, determined men
Then I thought of our own dear banner with its red and white and blue
Whose broad stripes, bright stars of glory ever guarded us safely thru
Oh that glorious, starry banner that on many a hard fought fields
Mid bursting shells and hissing bullets
Did freedoms cause unshield oh that grand and noble banner
For which so many fought and bled emblem of truth and democracy
The white, the blue and the red.

Daniel P. Temple

b. Sept. 9, 1838 Bowdoinham, Maine; d. July 13, 1911 Oconto Falls, WI

Civil War - August, 1861 thru August, 1864

Served under Grant in the siege of Vicksburg and Battle of Lookout Mountain

DANIEL PETER TEMPLE was born on 09 Sep 1838 in Bowdoinham, Maine. He died on 10 Jun 1911 in Oconto Falls, Oconto, Wisconsin, USA. He married AGNES JANE VOLK on 10 Jan 1868 in Gillett, Oconto County, Wi. She was born on 10 Jan 1836 in Chicago, IL. She died on 02 Jan 1900 in Oconto Falls, Oconto, Wisconsin, USA.

Daniel served in the Civil war. He enlisted in the famous company of "Oconto River Drivers", which later became known as Company "H", 4th Regiment of WI Calvary. He saw quite a bit of action in the deep south, but was sick much of the time. When he returned home he married a widow, Agnes Volk Andrews who had 3 children. Her husband was in the same company as Daniel, but was killed during the war. He helped bury Rufus Andrews on the battlefield. He was a lumberman and later a farmer, buying land in Oconto Co, WI. He conducted several land transactions in Oconto County in 1858 and 1873, involving about 181 acres.

Clifford Neil Wright memories of childhood (Told to his son and daughter-in-law on 3/28/02)

When Cliff was in 2nd grade, the family lived in Poplar Grove IL. He remembers gathering corn cobs to burn for fuel. They moved to IL in a Model T van. WWI vets got a pension and in 1930 Lester bought a 1928 Chevy.

Their Grandpa (Esther's father) was a field man for Samson Canning Co. Samson owned the farm. Grandpa arranged for Lester and Esther to run the farm for shares during the depression. Lester had a job with the CWA working on the road.

Hans loved the farm. Cliff hated the farm. Every morning Hans would get up first and hitch up the best team of horses and Cliff was stuck with the other team. Cliff left school for 2 years between 8th grade and high school to work the farm.

His mother knew he hated the farm and so arranged for Cliff to leave home at age 14. This was somehow arranged without Lester's knowledge and presented as a done deal, maybe after Cliff was gone. He went to 3 years of Ag school, then 1 year at Lincoln High School in Wisconsin Rapids, WI. During that time he boarded with a family and worked as a school janitor 2 hours each day and 8 hours on Saturday for 25¢/hour. Those were 4 of the greatest years of his life. The work was not hard compared to the farm.

The Wright family left the farm one year later for Vesper WI, where Lester ran a gas station. Lester and Esther moved from Vesper to Detroit. Aunt Ruth (Esther's sister) was managing an apartment and arranged for Esther to manage another.

Lester was a "womanizer, a bum and a loser." Cliff hated to admit that he had a father. Tim hated Lester also. Esther left Lester once Cliff married Mickey in March or April of 1947. Lester was a Dr. Jekyll/Mr. Hyde. He was an SOB with his family but likable to everyone else. He was smooth with women. He beat CN with a strap when he was young, but treated him as an adult and great guy later in Detroit.

Esther had to leave Detroit because of the weather. She had bronchial problems. She worked in Phoenix and met Mr. Gifford. They spent the summers in the mountains of LA and the winter in AZ.

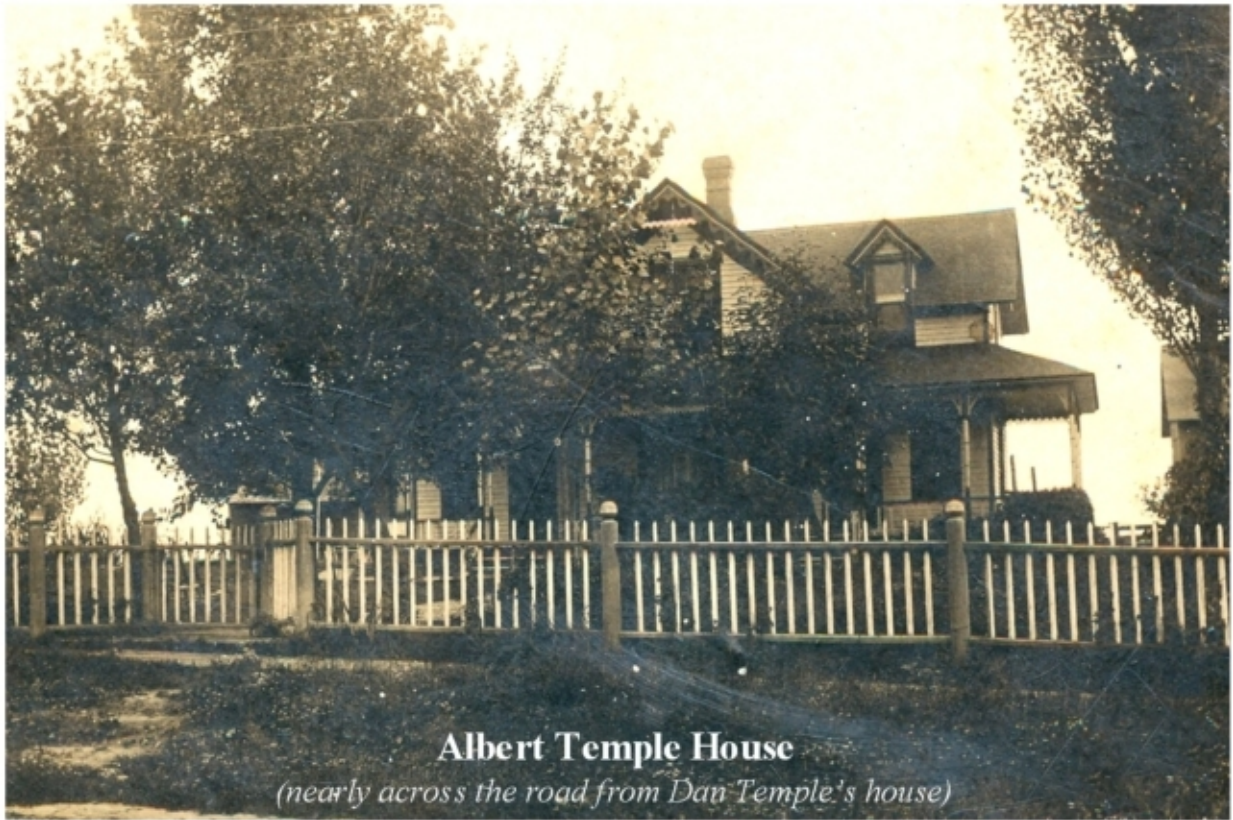

Lester worked for Vickers Manufacturing in Detroit but was eventually fired. He then worked in a "3rd rate" motel, a "flop house," in Detroit. They transferred him to Cleveland as a night clerk. He was living with a woman at the time. Lester became ill in Cleveland and died of a heart attack in December 1951.

Hans was in army field artillery in Bermuda. Cliff was in the marines in the South Pacific. Tim was in the Navy on a destroyer escort in the Philippines and elsewhere.

Clifford and Mildred Wright had SUSAN LEE WRIGHT, born on 27 Aug 1952 and RICHARD NEIL WRIGHT born on 09 Aug 1954, pictured below.

New Book Features Journal Of Falls Woman, Maria Volk Temple

OCONTO - Local author, Diane Nichols, has just released a new publication A Wisconsin Farm Woman: The Journal of Maria Volk Temple 1892-1900. The 140 page book is based on a journal given to Diane several years ago. The author was not identified until several marriages of the author's daughters were compared with records at the Register of Deed's office. It then became clear that the writer was a daughter of John and Almira Volk, founders of Oconto Falls.

Maria Volk was born in 1842 in Cook County, Illinois, the fifth child of John and Almira. She married George Temple in 1860, moved with her folks to Kansas, and then returned to Oconto Falls in 1862. Maria and George had nine children and lived on a farm northwest of the Falls on present-day highway 22 in Section 15.

The years of the journal come at the end of Maria's life; she dies in 1901. Though the book is filled with sorrow and weariness, Maria holds onto the Christian promise of eternal rest at the end. Most farm women never thought to record their thoughts. Maria did which gives us much insight into the difficult life of many other women like her.

The book is in the collections of both the Oconto and Oconto Falls public libraries. In addition, it is for sale at The Flower Shoppe [Oconto Falls], the Lumber Mill Gallery in Oconto, and the library in Oconto Falls. Interested persons may also buy the book directly from its editor, Diane Nichols, by sending $12.95 plus $2 postage and $.85 sales tax [if a Wisconsin resident] to A Nichols, Worth Press, 4295 Co J, Oconto WI 54153.

Oconto Falls (Township 28, Range 19) 1912

SOME OFT-TOLD TALES by J. Emory Temple 1973

With the thought in mind that my children and grandchildren might like to have in writing some of the oft-told little episodes in my life, I have decided to jot some of them down for posterity.

Genesis: My father, John Albert Temple, married my mother, Nina Howland, when he was 19 and she was 16 or 15 - she would never tell us for sure. As a wedding present to them, my grandfather, Albert Temple (they called him ``Ab'') gave them a milk cow and 40 acres of uncleared land three miles northwest of the little city of Oconto Falls, Wisconsin. Some years later they bought another 40 from him. With the help of some of his brothers and his young bride, my father soon had a piece of land cleared for their first crop and enough logs to build a log cabin home. A family was soon on the way. Two boys and two girls were born in quite quick succession. I was the fifth, and the last child born in that log cabin. My oldest brother was Alfred (died at age 36), followed by Robert (died in infancy), two sisters, Nora (Dupuis) and Violet, who never married and who died in 1951. Three other brothers died in infancy: Richard, Neddie and Lester. The babies died of contagious diseases, common to children of that time. It seemed we were quarantined with something nearly every winter. Three brothers are still living: Wilbur, Ray and Floyd.

Many memories come back to me of our family life in that little log cabin. Living was simple and rugged, without any modern conveniences. A small iron stove provided the only source of heat besides a wood-burning cook stove. A single kerosene lamp provided light, and of course there was no running water or inside toilet facilities. That little two-holer out back was sometimes a busy place, especially early in the morning - 5 a.m. was rising time. But somehow we managed to make it in time - generally - even when we had to wait our turn. When I was old enough to do some work on the farm, I loved to hide out in that little house and thumb thru the Sears-Roebuck catalogs on a warm summer day - until the family would get wise to my whereabouts. I never did like farming, especially hoeing corn in the field. Getting out of work, even to the point of sometimes feigning illness, called for quite a bit of resourcefulness. But I didn't get by with it for very long or very often.

I sometimes wonder how my mother ever stood the noise and confusion caused by so many children in such close quarters. Perhaps part of the explanation was in the fact that we all went to bed early - there was nothing much else to do. Radio and t.v. were, of course unheard of then. And reading by a kerosene lamp was too hard on the eyes to do very long at a time. So the whole family was generally in bed before 8 o'clock. My parents slept downstairs, and we kids all slept in a bare room upstairs, with bed sheets strung on wires to separate the boys from the girls. One of my brothers and I slept on a corn-husk mattress in a corner. I remember lying there on many a winter night and listening to the wolves and coyotes howling in the nearby woods. My father had a nightly ritual of making kindling just before retiring, for quick starting of the fire on cold winter mornings. And believe me it could get cold. With his jackknife and a dry piece of cedar he could make the most beautiful fan-shaped designs.

These he would put in a neat pile beside the stove in readiness for morning, because the fire would always go out during the night. In a few minutes after he arose he would have a crackling fire going in that little iron stove, a signal that the cabin would soon be warm as toast. By then mother would be up and getting breakfast (we generally had oatmeal and toast) while father went out to the barn to feed the stock. One time when everyone else was sick in bed, my father had to make the bread while mother directed him from her sick bed. He smoked a pipe, and mother cautioned him about getting pipe ashes in the bread dough. When the bread turned out better than mother's sometimes did, he said it was because of the pipe ashes. Of course as we boys got old enough, we helped father with the chores. By 7 a.m. we would all assemble around the breakfast table, and then be on our way- to school or the fields as the season demanded.

When company came my mother would sometimes send us kids upstairs to play to get us out from under her foot. Right in the middle of the ceiling was a small knothole, and I like to lie on my stomach with an eye to the hole and view what was going on downstairs. On one occasion I got the naughty idea of spitting thru the hole when someone happened to stand directly below it. It only happened once. My mother didn't even wait for the company to leave - she made a quick trip upstairs and let me have it right on the behind while I still had my eye to the knothole. My mother believed in quick action under certain circumstances - and that was one of them!

There was a large lilac bush in our front yard. My mother kept it well pruned by cutting switches to lick us kids with. In fact at one stage of our youthful development she used so many of its branches that it looked like it might vanish from the scene. But my hopes never materialized, for by next spring it had recovered and continued to provide a bountiful supply of switches. I recall one time when my mother was so exasperated with me that she didn't take time to cut a switch, she grabbed the closest lethal weapon at hand, which happened to be a buggy whip. While my legs smarted from the sting of the buggy whip, I made my first and only plans to run away. I hid out until supper time in the machine shed, when I decided the venture wasn't worth the pangs of hunger. Then too I knew my mother loved me and I would be forgiven no matter how naughty I had been. So as the family were sitting down to supper I sneaked in the front door and joined them.

One year, when I was about 14, my father got real generous. He told me when the spring plowing began, that if I would work real hard he would give me 50¢ to spend at the 4th of July celebration in town. He kept his word, and when the morning chores were done I was on my way to town with a bright new half dollar in my pocket. What a wonderful time I had all day knocking over dummies with a baseball, enjoying the nickel rides, playing the games of chance, and feasting on ice cream cones (big ones for 5¢) and other delicacies. When noontime came, families would get together for a picnic lunch on the grounds. By then I had spent all my money, of course, and had to be content with being only a spectator the rest of the day. I was allowed to remain for the evening with my older brother, while the rest of the family went home for supper and to do the chores. The three mile hike home near midnight following the day's activities just about did me in. Five o'clock came pretty early the next morning when I had to drag myself out of bed and come back to the reality of the workaday world.

Because we were poor I never had, or expected an allowance. So I had to earn my own spending money. I did this mostly by trapping muskrats, mink, weasels, raccoons, skunks, and other fur-bearing animals and gophers for the 10¢ bounty. On one occasion when I caught a skunk in a trap I brought it home to skin it after drowning the animal in a nearby creek. Stretching the pelt on a board, I held it under the snout of the pump to wash it. Somehow the scent was washed thru the cracks in the pump platform. My mother detected the odor when the next pale of water was brought into the house. As a result, I had to spend most of a day pumping the well dry or until the water met the test of my mother's sensitive nose. Needless to say I never did a trick like that again.

Another of my money making projects involved catching frogs and shipping them to the F. J. Burns Commission House in Chicago. They paid me as much as 32¢ a dozen, and this proved to be a pretty good source of income. Our neighbor across the road, Herb Tuttle, had an icehouse, and he would let me have a cake of ice in which to pack the frog legs in a half-nail keg for shipping. Generally my brothers and I would work the marshes in the vicinity of our farm but I also found it profitable to tie a gunny sack to the seat of the mower when cutting hay in the field. When a frog would jump out of the grass in front of the sickle, I would stop the horses, hop off the mower, swat the frog with a paddle and toss him in the sack. My father couldn't figure out why it took me so long to cut a field of hay until he caught me at my little scheme one day. Thereafter he insisted that my frog hunting be confined to other methods and when I was off duty. When we couldn't manage to catch enough frogs to make it profitable to ship them we'd invite some of the neighbor boys over on a Sunday afternoon for a cookout of frog legs and roasted potatoes in a wooded area on our farm. Oh how good they tasted! But it always made me feel a little bit squeamish when the frog legs would hop about in the hot frying pan - reflexes you know.

Sunday afternoons in summer were generally spent playing baseball in some farmer's pasture. We played Spruce, Frenchtown, and occasionally would make a trip into town to play the city boys in their park. They usually beat us cause they had more time to practice than we did. We couldn't figure out why they'd never come out and play on our field, until we learned they thought it too hazardous-they weren't willing to take the chance of sliding into a fresh cow pancake that could often be found on our ball diamond. At fourteen I played third base on the Temple Town baseball team, the youngest member of the team, and before I finished high school I was first string pitcher. The last game I pitched was on July 4, , at a community picnic in Angus Groves. I had returned to my hometown from Green Bay for the celebration and since Templetown was playing Frenchtown, their arch rivals, that day they asked me to pitch. Not wanting to let down the ``home team'', I went against my better judgement and accepted the challenge. I had never experienced a sore arm, and so I gave it everything I had. Striking out 17 batters and winning the game 7 to 3. But that was the last game of hardball I ever pitched-the strain was too much and my pitching arm was never any good after that. Pride goeth before a fall, but I learned my lesson too late. I remember how my arm ached all the way back to Green Bay on the train that evening.

As a boy I had always wanted a bicycle, but of course my folks could never afford to buy me one. So I began to scrounge around in the dumps for bicycle parts. All I could find was an old battered bicycle frame, which I joyously brought home and hid in a corner of the machine shed. What to do about some wheels. I thought, even if I couldn't pedal the thing, I could at least coast down hill if I only had some wheels. One afternoon when my mother was in town and my dad busy in the field, I removed a wheel from the baby buggy, and another from my mother's washing machine, attached them to the frame, and tried coasting down the hill behind our house. I was having a great time, until the iron washing machine wheel struck a rock and broke into a dozen pieces. Of course I was scared stiff at the thought of what my mother would do to me when she found it out. After giving consideration to several plans, I finally conceived the idea of removing all vestiges of evidence by heaving the pieces of broken wheel into the depths of a frog pond at the far corner of our farm. You can imagine my mother's surprise when she went to use her washing machine next day. Lining us kids up she proceeded to question us, with dire threats if we didn't come clean. Of course none of us did, and the mystery of the missing wheel went unsolved for many years. But they say "murder will out", and it came in the form of a confession after I was a grown man and had a family of my own. Grandma Temple was visiting us one day when we lived in the state house near the Reformatory, when out of the blue she said to me: "Emory, I've always had sneaking suspicion that you were the one who knew about my missing washing machine wheel-now why don't you fess up?" Well, I did and my Mother said if I wasn't a grown man with a family, she'd take me across her knee right then and there. Maybe she should have.

One Sunday afternoon shortly after the 4th of July, my brother Wilbur, Martin Wier, whose parents lived down the road a half mile, and I were pushing a raft around the frog pond at the far corner of our farm. We had built it of logs and fence posts from my father's supply. Suddenly Martin noticed a strange object in the shadows of the cedar trees surrounding the pond. He pointed it out to Wilbur, and then to me. One look was all I needed to convince me that danger lurked nearby. Poling the raft to shore, I jumped off and headed across the fields for home as fast as my legs would carry me. Wilbur and Martin were close behind me. Breathlessly we tried to tell the family what we had seen, but our descriptions didn't seem to quite agree. We did agree that it had stripes, a black head, and stood quite tall.

When my brother Alfred came home from Grandpa Temple's, where he had been visiting, we tried to explain it to him. Since we said it had stripes, he thought maybe it was an escaped convict who had hanged himself from a tree. Finally at our pleading, he took his trusty 22 rifle and headed for the swamp to try and solve the mystery. We followed at a safe distance to view any action from a hilltop. We shuddered as our brother entered the swamp with his rifle at ready; but were relieved a few minutes later when he came out with a big red, white and blue paper balloon. Apparently someone had sent it up on the 4th as part of their celebration, and it had come down behind a black stump. Of course we kids wanted to claim it, but Alfred said no, it was his as he was the only one brave enough to go in after it. It had a small tear, which we patched, made a rag ball which we soaked with kerosene and tied to the cross wires at the mouth of the balloon, and that night we ignited it. The balloon soon filled with gas from the burning torch, and in moments it was soaring into the heavens. As it was passing over our barn, a down draft caused it to dip crazily, and we were fearful that it would come down on the roof and burn the barn down. Our dad must have had like fears, for he came yelling out of the house and accused us of trying to burn the barn down. However a kindly breeze caught it just in time and it sailed away into the night - and that's the last we ever saw of it.

My brother Wilbur and I usually took turns taking the cows to the pasture after breakfast. At one spot along the lane we followed was a patch of Canadian Thistles. On a certain morning I noticed that my dad had cut the thistles and they were lying beside the path. Knowing that Wilbur would be passing that way next morning, I decided to play a fiendish trick on him. Carefully picking up several bunches of the prickly thistles I placed them in the path where Wilbur would be sure to walk on them in his bare feet. As fate would have it, next morning Wilbur complained of a stomach ache and I had to take the cows to the pasture. I went whistling along the path, not giving a thought to the trap I had set for my brother the morning before, until I felt the painful prick of those thistles in my bare feet. I remember it took me several minutes to pull them all out - while I gave some serious thought to the fact that my little joke had backfired. Of course I never told my brother or anyone else about it.

One day when I was about eight, my mother went to town with the horse and buggy, and Wilbur and I were left in our dad's care. We went with him to the field back of our house, where with the team of horses and a scraper was turning up some nice smooth stones, and Wilbur and I began throwing them at imaginary targets. Some how one of my pebbles went astray and hit Wilbur in the ankle. He put up a big howl and limped about like he was in great pain --which he really wasn't. My dad, sizing up the situation and hearing Wilbur's complaint about me hitting him with a rock, stopped the team, took me across his knee and proceeded to warm my bottom. The shame of getting a whipping from father made a more lasting impression on me than the actual pain involved, and for a couple of days I went about with my head down, not speaking to anyone. My parents had different approaches in the matter of spanking. My mother would say, "Come here. I'm going to lick you!" When conduct called for a spanking my father would drop whatever he was doing, stalk over to the culprit and let him have it, with no words said or questions asked.

I'll never forget the second of the only two spankings I ever got from my dad. There was a sand pit near the frog pond on our farm. One morning in the fall of the year when I was about ten, Wilbur and I decided that we would both take the cows to the pasture and spend the morning playing in the sand pit instead of picking up potatoes that our brother Alfred was digging, as we had been told to do. We had a great time building castles in the sand, until our stomachs told us it was near lunch time. My conscience had begun to bother me a little too. When we got back to the house my mother said: "You just wait - your dad's going to give it to you." I immediately began to think of some way to avoid the punishment that I knew was coming. My baby brother, Ray, was lying in his crib in the log cabin, and I thought to myself, If I'm holding the baby my dad can't whip me. So I sat rocking the baby until my dad stalked into the house with a lilac switch in his hand. All he said was, "Put that baby down." I did so without hesitation, and soon my legs and seat were smarting from those lilac lashes applied with my father's heavy hand. Again I went about for a time with my head down and my heart full of shame. The frequent whipping I received from my mother never seemed to carry the same degree of shame or remorse.

The two mile hike from home to the little one-room school (it had one teacher for all eight grades) I attended took me past a deserted farm house. We kids often wondered what was in that house and if maybe it was haunted. One day after school as Wilbur, Martin Wier, and I were walking home we decided to find out. Breaking in the door, we found a bed and some wooden chairs. I don't recall whose idea it was, but somehow the gang spirit must have taken over, and soon we were engaged in smashing everything to bits. A short time after this happened a gang of kids from town broke into a nearby house while the owners were away and proceeded to take several balls of carpet rags from a closet. These they would throw over the roof of the house while holding onto the end of the string. When the owners came home they had wall-to-wall carpet rags on the outside. Eventually that gang was arrested, and among other crimes, they were charged with the break-in we had committed. All got probation.

Believe me, the three of us were pretty scared for a time before the case was closed, and I know I did some real soul-searching and vowed such a thing would never happen again. I often think how lucky I was.

Maybe the above experience had something to do with my decision later to join the staff of the Green Bay Reformatory, where I worked from 1920 to 1957, and often was called on to give lectures on Boys in Trouble. But all that would be another story.

PART II

Part II first shows Abraham Temple's ancestors. This is followed by a more detailed list some of his descendants. This report mainly concentrates on known individuals in the Oconto County, Wisconsin area.

ABRAHAM TEMPLE'S ANCESTORS

Abraham Temple was born in 1597 in England. Abraham was one of the first of the Temples to migrate to America. He married Abigail in 1620 in England and they settled in Salem, Massachusetts in 1636. Abigail died in 1639. As presented in the introduction, the Temples can be traced to Thomas Temple born in 1490. Abraham's direct ancestors are as follows:

Abraham was the son of Peter Temple and Katherine Kendall. Peter was born in 1576 in Stowe, Buckinghamshire, England. He married Nov. 21, 1614 in Burton, Warwickshire, England. Peter died April 7, 1657 in Stowe, England.

Peter was the son of John Temple and Susanna Spencer. John was born in 1542 in Stowe, Buckinghamshire, England and died May 9, 1603. John married Susanna Nov. 24, 1561 in North Hamptonsire, England.

John was the son of Peter Temple and Mylycent Jekyll. Peter was born in 1516 in Burton, Warwickshire, England and died May 8, 1577. Peter married Mylycent in 1541 in Stowe, England.

Peter was the son of Thomas Temple and Alice Heritage. Thomas was born in 1490 in Whitney, Oxfordshire, England and died in 1560. Thomas and Alice were married in 1515.

ABRAHAM TEMPLE'S DESCENDANTS

Our primary individual, Abraham Temple, born 1597, is shown as Generation 1. His children are shown as Generation 2, his grandchildren as Generation 3 and so on. Generation 9 are those who migrated to Wisconsin and are direct descendants of John Temple, Generation 8. Abigail Temple came to Brown County Wisconsin about 1850 and to Oconto Falls in about 1852. It is believed her husband died prior to her arrival in Wisconsin.
