

ALICE¹ FREEMAN, WIFE OF JOHN TOMPSON OF PRESTON CAPES, NORTHAMPTONSHIRE, AND OF ROBERT¹ PARKE OF CONNECTICUT

New Information on Her Parents, Siblings, Children, and First Husband

By Randy A. West

A submission in the genealogical column of the Boston Evening Transcript for 25 July 1917 issue presented baptismal records of children of John and Alice¹ (Freeman) Tompson at Preston Capes, Northamptonshire, as well as an abstract of John Tompson's will.¹ Two articles published in this journal in 1936 and 1953 extended coverage of Alice's paternal and maternal ancestral lines of Freeman and Edwards, respectively.² While further research has mainly explored her royal ancestors³ and royal descendants,⁴ there is still very little in print concerning her parents and siblings. This article presents new information from parish registers, probates, and other sources on Alice's parents, siblings, children, and first husband.

As no probate records or burial record were found for Alice's father to determine his approximate date of death, an Inquisition post mortem (I.P.M.) fills this void. The inquisition held at Kettering, Northamptonshire, on 14 October, 4

Charles I [1606] to inquire after the death of Henry Freeman, gentleman, deceased, found [emphasis added]:

the aforesaid Henry Freeman, named in the said writ, held on the day, on which he died in his demesne as of fee one capital messuage, one cottage, two closes of land, one of which is called Pantsons, and five virgates of arable land, situated and being in the vill and fields of Cranford in the said county of Northampton. And one close of land, situated and being in the fields of Barton by Ketteringe. And one capital messuage, one cottage and three virgates of land, situated and being in the vill and fields of Wellingborowe in the said county of Northampton. And the aforesaid Henry Freeman, being seized thus, as is aforesaid, died on the fifth day of August last past [1606] seized of the aforesaid tail estate. And the aforesaid jurors say upon their aforesaid oaths that all the aforesaid messuages, cottages, closes of land and other premises in Cranford, Barton and Wellingborowe, aforesaid (except the certain aforesaid close in Cranford called Pantsons) are held and at the time of the death of the said Henry were held, but of whom or by what service the aforesaid jurors are completely ignorant. And that the aforesaid close of land in Cranford called Pantsons is held and at the time of death of the said Henry was held of the said lord king as of his honor of Gloucester by knight service, but by what part of the knight's fee the aforesaid jurors are completely ignorant. And that all the aforesaid messuages, cottages, lands, tenements, closes and other premises in Cranford, aforesaid, are worth per annum in all issues beyond reprise 10s. And that the close of land in Barton, aforesaid, is worth per annum in all issues beyond reprise 2s 6d. And that all the messuages, cottages and lands and other premises in Wellingborowe, aforesaid, are worth per annum in all issues beyond reprise 6s 8d. And that Thomas Freeman is the son and heir of the aforesaid Henry Freeman, deceased, and is of the age at the time of the taking of this inquisition of thirteen years and two months. And that Margaret, wife of the aforesaid Henry, is still alive and in full life at Cranford, aforesaid. And that the aforesaid Henry Freeman or anyone else or any others to his use did not have any other lands, tenements, rents or services in use, possession, reversion or remainder in the same county of Northampton or elsewhere to their knowledge.⁵

The will and codicil of "Thomas Freeman of Cranford in the County of Northampton, gent[leman]," brother of Alice, dated 14 August 1637 and 23 August 1637, respectively, and proved in September 1637, provides additional information about their mother and Alice's children [emphasis added]:

First i give and bequeath my messuage or dwelling house wherein I have lately dwelt together with the orchards gardens and backsides thereunto adioyneing and the yards houses and outhouses on the East side of the com[m]on streete, and two acres of arrable land in each of the three feilds, and my meadowe called the Arrables, unto my loving mother for and dureing the space of tenn yeares if shee live soe long. But if yt happen that my said mother dye before the end and determinacon of the said tenn yeares Then I will that my brother in lawe William Spenser of Scaldwell and my kinsman Robert Peake of Achurch shall have and enjoy my said dwelling house and all other things bequeathed to my mother for and dureing all the residue of the said terme of tenne yeares then to come and unexpired. The will mentions Samuel, an additional son of his sister Alice not previously known in the genealogical literature. Since it is known that her eldest son Thomas was born in 1616, the Preston Capes, Northamptonshire, parish registers were reviewed, since they begin in 1614. The following two baptisms were found that were not reported in the 1917 genealogical column:

Thomas the sonn of John Tompson baptized the 23 of december [1616].

Samuell the son of John Tompson & Alice his wife baptized the 25 of May [1618].⁷

In addition, the identity of “my kinsman Robert Peake of [Thorpe] Achurch,” mentioned in Thomas’s will (above), is resolved with the following entry in the parish register for Cranford St. John, Northamptonshire:

Robert Peake of Achurch in the County of Northam[p]t[on] Yeoman & Margaret Thompson Neece unto Mr Thomas Freeman of this parish were marryed July 31 An[n]o 1634.⁸

Therefore, John and Alice Tompson also had another daughter, Margaret. Given that she married in 1634, she was born by say 1614. If she was baptized at Preston Capes, it was perhaps before 28 August 1614, the date of the earliest baptism in the surviving parish register.

The Inquisition Post Mortem taken on 16 September 1628 for John Tompson, first husband of Alice, states that he died in London on 6 November 1626.⁹ This date is in agreement with his will, which was dated the same day and proved on 11 April 1627.¹⁰ Yet he also made a codicil to his will on the next day, 7 November 1626. Therefore, the date of death in the I.P.M. must be incorrect. Since only to 17 December 1626, since he is mentioned as deceased in the entry for the baptism of his youngest child, a datum omitted when this entry was abstracted for the 1917 genealogical column. The original baptismal record reads:

Martha the daughter of John Tompson deseased & Alice his wiffe baptized the 17 day of december [1626].¹²

If the date of John's death in his I.P.M. is incorrect, then his place of death stated there may also be incorrect. He may have been buried at Preston Capes, but burial records for that parish are missing for the period 1626–1631.

The following genealogical summary incorporates this new information on the Freemans and Alice's children into the genealogy already established by Torrey.¹³

GENEALOGICAL SUMMARY

1 HENRY^A FREEMAN was born say 1566, son of Thomas Freeman of Irchester, Northamptonshire. He married say 1591, but before 25 December 1591 (the date of the will of his wife's father), MARGARET EDWARDS, daughter of Edward and Ursula (Coles) Edwards, who was born say 1570. He died on 5 August 1606, probably at Cranford St. John, Northamptonshire, and held crown lands in Cranford, Barton by Kettering (i.e. Barton Seagrave), and Wellingborough in this county at his death, as indicated in his I.P.M. His widow, Margaret, was living on 23 August 1637, when given a bequest in the codicil to her son Thomas's will.

Children of Henry^A and Margaret (Edwards) Freeman:

- i THOMAS FREEMAN, b. ca. Aug. 1593 (age from his father's I.P.M.), bur. Cranford St. John, Northants., 26 Aug. 1637.¹⁴ His will and codicil were dated 14 Aug. 1637 and 23 Aug. 1637, respectively, and proved in Sept. 1637.
- ii HENRY FREEMAN, b. say 1594, bur. Wellingborough, Northants., 13 July 1631;¹⁵ m. Finedon, Northants., 16 April 1618, ELEANOR MULSHO,¹⁶ bur. Wellingborough, 28 Dec. 1633.¹⁷ The nuncupative will of "Eleanor Freeman late of Well[blot] . . . widow," proved 7 June 1634, left to "my sonne Thomas Freeman" a rug and two silver bowls, to "my cossen William Mulso my godsonne" 10s., to "my cossen Margrett Tomson" 10s., to "my sisters Frances Stow[,] Elizabeth Clarke[,] Alice Tomson &
